

U. S. Plans To Reject Protest From Moscow

Russians Pull Down Flag And Leave Berlin City Hall

Berlin, Aug. 13.—(P)—The Russians today pulled down their flag over the allied Kommandatura building and walked out, leaving only the portraits of Lenin and Stalin.

The final walkout came six weeks after the Russians had proclaimed the four-power Kommandatura no longer existed. Since then the Russians had been clearing out their offices.

The four power Kommandatura had ruled Berlin for three years, but now the only vestige of municipal unity left is the dissension-riddled German city government. The Soviet-sponsored Unity party (SED) still participates in the overwhelmingly anti-Communist city council.

Widening of the breach between the East and West came as two four-engine American C-54 planes carrying coal to Soviet-blockaded Berlin crashed while landing during a heavy rainstorm at Tempelhof air-drome.

Luck was riding with both crews on this Friday the 13th. The air-planes walked away from the crashes. The first transport, coming out of the clouds on instruments, landed on a half-completed runway. The plane was ripped by the rough landing but the crew was not hurt.

Soon after a second plane careened through a fence just short of a busy street. The aircraft caught fire but the crew of three escaped through an emergency hatch without serious injuries.

Despite the rain U. S. planes made 151 flights with 2,029 tons of food and fuel in the 24-hour period ending at 10 a.m.

Unrest mounted in the American zone of Germany over high prices. In city after city women were reported pelting vendors with their own vegetables, smashing eggs on the heads of merchants and overturning food stands. Thousands of workers demonstrated demanding a voice for labor in industrial management.

Truman To Notify Country Of Deficit

Government Short Of Funds For Next Year

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—President Truman may notify the country this week-end that it faces a budget deficit this fiscal year, ending next June 30.

The mid-year budget review, due shortly from the White House, will show a sharp reversal from the president's forecast in January. Then a healthy $4,800,000,000 surplus was foreseen for fiscal 1949.

The prospect of a deficit has its source for Republicans, hopeful of capturing the administration in November. If they win they would preside over a red-ink government on their first return to power in 16 years.

In the revised budget message, Mr. Truman is expected to lay heavy stress on one factor in the changed fiscal picture—the income tax cut passed by the Republican Congress over his veto.

Drop In Revenues

Because of that $4,600,000,000 drop in revenues, plus heavy unforeseen outlays for national defense, a high fiscal official reported privately today that "it looks as if we'll show a deficit."

As long as a month ago some officials guessed that the margin of spending over income might be $2,000,000,000. Booming business conditions, which mean better tax collections, may reduce the margin.

The mid-year review is a sort of "second look" into the government's pocket book. Each January the president tells Congress the outlook for the fiscal year starting six months later. When the six months are passed—and Congress has left—it is time to refigure.

This time the government may be like the housewife who rummages her purse, wonders where her money went, and decides to open a charge account.

Spends Around 42 Billion

Some officials have estimated that federal spending may approach $42,000,000,000, with income around $40,000,000,000. Last January the president forecast income at $44,500,000,000 and spending only $39,700,000,000.

Thus Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, if he is holding Mr. Truman's chair next June 30, may have news which sadly contrasts with the "true surplus" of $8,400,000,000 which the administration announced six weeks ago for the 1948 fiscal year.

If the national income continues to climb, however, the budget will fatten up. The federal tax income rises in direct relation to the level of business activity, profits and prices.

Ask Democrats To Write School Aid In Platform

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 13.—(P)—Democratic state platform drafters were asked today to write in a plank calling for stepped up state aid to common schools.

Lester R. Grimm, research director for the Illinois Education association, said the 1947 Republican legislature voted "absurdly low" levels of support for public grade and high schools.

The legislature appropriated $65,000,000 in general assistance for the 1947 and 1948 school years.

"Illinois is not giving a square deal to her children," Grimm said. He spoke at a public hearing to gather ideas for the Democratic declaration of principles.

William Vicens of Pontiac, a platform committee member, presided at the session. At an earlier hearing in Chicago, a share in state tax revenues was urged for cities.

Democrats will adopt a platform when their biennial state convention resumes in Chicago Aug. 26.

Progressives Fight For Place On Nov. Ballot

Sycamore, Ill., Aug. 13.—(P)—The Illinois Progressive party's fight for a place on the November ballot in Cook county came up today before a state Supreme Court justice.

Justice William J. Fulton, in his Sycamore office, heard arguments on the Progressives' request that the ballot question be transferred from the Appellate to the Supreme court.

The move was opposed by Melvin Wingersky, assistant state's attorney from Chicago. Fulton took the matter under advisement.

The Progressives obtained a Circuit court ruling in June giving their candidates a place on the ballot. The state has appealed this ruling to the appellate court.

Fix Low-Cost Air Delivery For Package Mail

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—Inauguration of domestic air parcel post service on September 1 was formally announced tonight by postmaster general Jesse M. Donaldson.

Authorized by congress early this year, it will give the nation its first low-cost air delivery of package mail.

Air parcel post will cover sealed or unsealed mail weighing more than eight ounces but not more than 70 pounds and not exceeding 100 inches in length and girth combined.

The distance zones which determine the surface parcel post charge will also provide the basis for charges for air delivery, on a sliding scale. These begin at 55 cents for the first pound and four cents for each additional pound in zones one and two (up to 150 miles) and additional 50 cents for the first pound and 65 cents for each additional pound in zone eight (over 1,000 miles).

Canada To Lift Beef Export Ban

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—Canada will lift its wartime ban on exports of beef cattle and beef to this country Monday, but it won't mean a noticeable increase in domestic meat supplies in the immediate future.

The Agriculture Department said Canada may be able to furnish this country with about 100,000 head by the end of the year.

This number is equal to about 1/3 of one per cent of the 32,000,000 head of cattle which the department estimates will be slaughtered for meat in this country this year.

Removal of the embargo—established in 1942 as a war food control measure—was announced jointly by the Canadian government in Ottawa and the Agriculture Department.

Anti-Inflation Bill To Be Signed Monday

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—Controls on installment buying probably will become effective Sept. 16.

The date depends on when—and of course if President Truman signs the Republican-sponsored anti-inflation bill calling for consumer credit controls and a tightening of bank loans.

The White House said late today Mr. Truman has decided to delay until at least Monday his action on the measure.

But whatever action he takes, it is certain to be followed by a blast at Congress. This blast—or statement—is what is holding up action.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross said the president is still drafting the statement, and still has a lot of work to do on it.

Despite the delay, it is believed Mr. Truman will sign the anti-inflation measure although it falls on the measure.

Thirty days later the controls will become effective. That would be around Sept. 16 or 17.

These controls, although not yet officially announced, will be much like the wartime curb on time payments, and will be something like this:

One-third down payments required for automobiles, refrigerators, washing machines, ranges, radios, television sets, most musical instruments, jewelry, silverware, and household appliances generally. On automobiles, buyers will have 18 months to pay for new cars, 15 for used cars. The monthly payments on other items will vary between 15 and 18.

A smaller down payment—maybe around 20 percent or one-fifth of the total—will be required for furniture, draperies, pianos, rugs and items of that class.

Items costing less than $50 or more than $4,000 will be exempt from controls. The wartime controls set a limit of $2,000, but the ceiling is being boosted because of today's higher prices, particularly in the automotive field.

Young Evangelist Ruled Independent By Juvenile Court

Indianapolis, Aug. 13.—(P)—Little David Walker, 14-year-old boy evangelist, is not a neglected or endangered child, juvenile court referee Lawrence Hinds ruled today.

Hinds said comprehensive medical tests did not support the contention of the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walker of Chicago, that his health is endangered by his preaching work.

The tests, ordered by Hinds during the series of hearings on the boy's custody, were made by Dr. Hazel Stevens, psychologist; Dr. David Boyd Jr., psychiatrist; and Dr. Donald J. Casely, medical director of the Indiana University medical center.

The juvenile court hearings did not touch on the Walker's dispute over a guardianship set up for the boy last winter. That matter is still pending in Marion county probate court here.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker didn't appear at today's court session, but Little David and his guardian did.

In the probate court case, the Walkers have asked that the guardianship under James Dawson, Indianapolis lawyer, be set aside. They also have asked the court to void a contract Dawson signed with David's manager, the Rev. Raymond G. Hoekstra of Indianapolis.

Greeks Close Last Guerrilla Supply Route

Athens, Aug. 13.—(P)—Greek army troops today began closing the Communist guerrillas' last major supply route through the Grammos mountains to Albania, a general staff spokesman said.

Columns driving west from Alevitsa gained positions within two and a half miles—easy artillery range—of the main highway through Siliomitsa. The informant said a secondary road already has been cut by Greek units which took the village of Yannohori.

The highway fighting occurred at the northeastern end of the guerrillas' shrinking semi-circular front. The government announced that Greek troops in that area are being shelled by guns inside Albania. According to the general staff spokesman, Greek soldiers have heard orders to fire being given in the Albanian language.

Newspapers in Athens reported that guerrilla units have been seen retreating into Albania despite a resolution by the United Nations special committee on the Balkans calling on Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia to intern the rebels.

Truman Campaign Opens Labor Day In Detroit, Mich.

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—President Truman will kick off his campaign for four more years in the White House with a Labor day speech at Detroit.

Key White House officials and national Democratic committee sources in Washington confirmed that report yesterday (Friday), although there was no official announcement.

Senator J. Howard McGrath, Democratic national chairman, has been urging Mr. Truman to deliver his first major campaign speech in a city where union labor is a strong element of the voting population. Detroit fills that bill.

The Detroit appearance apparently will not be part of any general campaign tour. Plans for such a tour are in the making, however.

Claims Democrats Blocked Service Men's Promotions

Washington, Aug. 13.—(P)—Senator Gurney (R-SD) said today two Democrats blocked Senate confirmation of about 1,000 armed services promotions in the recent special session.

Gurney's office made public a letter which the senator sent to Secretary of Defense Forrestal from his home in South Dakota. Gurney, chairman of the Senate armed services committee, said Senate Republican leaders agreed that the armed services nominations "could not be considered to be on the same type as those on which the majority decided to take no action."

Consequently, he said, he made two attempts to have the nominations confirmed, but that Senator Lucas (D-Ill) and Tydings (D-Md) objected.

At the time the Democrats objected, Senator Wherry (R-Nebr) held the floor and declined to yield to them to answer an attack on President Truman by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich).

Manx Association Elects Officers

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 13.—(P)—Frank Shimmis of Peoria was elected third vice-president of the North American Manx association today at the concluding business session of the group's convention. He was the only new officer named.

Re-elected president was Mrs. A. B. Crookall of Douglas, Isle of Man. The association is made up of natives and descendants of natives of the Isle of Man, in the Irish sea.

The group voted to hold its 1949 convention in Cleveland.

Teacher Claims Russ Held Her Prisoner

Made Escape By Jumping From Window

New York, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina told a Russian consular official from her hospital bed today: "You kept me a prisoner, you would not let me go!"

Narrowly escaping death in her three-story jump from a Russian consulate window the 52-year-old Russian school-teacher last night accomplished what a state court's writ failed to do earlier in the day.

She had removed herself from the consulate, where she had been for the past six days, and put herself in an American hospital—with 15 New York city police men and women on guard.

In Washington tonight, Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the House un-American activities committee, announced he would serve a subpoena on her to testify before the committee.

Stripling, who said he was acting under telephoned instructions from committee chairman Thomas (R-N.J.), said Mrs. Kosenkina would be called to testify "as soon as she is able."

The announcement came amid high level diplomatic moves concerning her future.

Test Reason For Act

While the battle over her custody continued in New York, Washington and Moscow, at the hospital she made today her first clear declaration of the reason for her act.

Vit came as Zot I. Chepurnykh, vice-consul, stood beside the hospital bed. With him was a consulate secretary and a Russian-speaking New York detective.

The detective, William Dyczko, said the vice consul suggested to Mrs. Kosenkina that she agree to be moved to another hospital.

Her answer, the detective said, was:

"No! You kept me a prisoner, you would not let me go!"

Later Chepurnykh was questioned about the meeting, and did not disclose the teacher's refusal.

Instead he told newsmen that "it is possible the consul general may have her moved to another hospital so a Russian-trained nurse or observer could be on hand."

Refuse Russian Nurse

Then the vice-consul asked a hospital official if a Russian-trained nurse could be put in Mrs. Kosenkina's room. He was told: "I don't think that's possible. You know we are short of beds."

A hospital official said later that "if the patient, herself, expressed a desire not to be moved, her wishes would be respected."

A police official said he had no comment, after a talk with the teacher, on whether legal action would follow her charge that she was imprisoned at the consulate.

Still on the critical list this afternoon with a fractured leg, a possible fractured pelvis, and internal and back injuries, the woman was reported "resting fairly comfortably" and cheerful "at times."

Not so cheerful was the diplomatic furor over whether she should remain in the hands of American authorities or be turned over to the Russians.

Commercial Phone Workers Announce Plans For Strike

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 13.—(P)—A strike of 400 maintenance and construction workers which might tie up service by the Illinois Commercial Telephone company was set today for 8 a.m. (CST) Monday.

W. R. Boyd, union official representing the employees, said that wage negotiations had "broken down completely."

"It doesn't leave us much else to do but strike," he said. Boyd is business agent of Local 51 of the AFL International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The company serves 125,000 subscribers in 580 communities in western, central and southern Illinois. Among the larger cities served are Lincoln, Kewanee, Monmouth, Benton, West Frankfort, Duquoin, Harrisburg, Marion and Murphysboro.

Burton W. Saunders, company vice president and general manager, said telephone service might be tied up if commercial and traffic employees observe the electrical workers union picket lines. Boyd would not comment on this possibility.

The union has asked hourly wage increases of 35 cents and the company has offered a five cents boost to certain craft workers in the top scale. Their wages now range from 80 cents to $1.35 an hour, Saunders said.

Attractive Blonde Begins Hitch-Hike To Meet Husband

Bangor, Me., Aug. 13.—(P)—An attractive young mother, babe-in-arms, began a long hitch-hike to California today.

She was hopeful of a reunion with her army husband before he goes overseas Aug. 20.

Blonde Marjorie Furio, 28, wife of T. J. Furio, thumbed a ride within a few minutes after stationing herself on the Bangor-Portland highway.

Besides 22-months-old Tony, Jr., she had a fur coat, a small suitcase—filled with diapers—and a shopping bag containing two dresses.

She was willing to sell the coat—which she says cost her $350—for $100 to help pay expenses, but "no one offered to buy it."

Tony was transferred to the west coast in June. Mrs. Furio says his allotment checks have been delayed, leaving her without transportation funds.

Her husband, now in San Francisco, has a four-room home ready for her there, she said.

Plane Crackup Kills 13, Injures 8 In New Mexico

Roswell, N. M., Aug. 13.—(P)—Thirteen men died in the flaming wreckage of a B-29 bomber from Walker Base, the air force announced late today.

Eight others were injured in the crackup, one critically. The superfortress crashed at 12:35 a.m. (CST) today six miles south of the base, where its crewmen were stationed as members of the 509th Bomb Wing.

Col. John D. Ryan, field commander, said the big ship crashed while taking off on a routine flight.

There was no official comment on a report, published by the Roswell Record, that the bomber was leaving on a flight to Labrador.

The newspaper said the takeoff of five other B-29s, also en route to Labrador, was postponed as a result of the crash.

Teacher Claims Russ Held Her Prisoner

Made Escape By Jumping From Window

New York, Aug. 13.—(P)—Babe Ruth's condition has shown no improvement in 24 hours, but he still can manage a smile and a joke.

And a call from the White House brightened his day today.

The critically ill home-run king—baseball's all-time idol—made a game rally yesterday in his fight for life, but a bulletin released today by the Memorial hospital center for cancer and allied diseases, said:

"Babe Ruth continues to run a moderately high fever and in general there is no improvement in his condition."

Shortly before 3 p.m. (CST) the hospital said Ruth's temperature was "slightly lower than at the same hour yesterday." The statement added:

"He is taking nourishment with some difficulty. His condition is otherwise unchanged."

The 33-year-old former New York Yankee has been in an out of the hospital for some time. His condition suddenly became worse Wednesday after he caught a cold and pulmonary complications set in.

Although only members of Ruth's immediate family and a few close personal friends were permitted to visit his room, admirers flooded the hospital with telephone calls, telegrams and letters.

One came today from the White House. A secretary said President Truman wanted to know how the Babe was coming along.

When told about the call, Ruth's smid, his attorney, Melvin Gordor Lowenstein, said:

"He seems as bright as yesterday," Lowenstein said. "He and I kidded each other. He talked and joked with me."

Ruth, who underwent a delicate throat operation, has been sick for two years. The exact nature of his illness never has been announced.

Roosevelt Officials Deny Aiding Spies

Gov. Green Meets With Downstate Mayors' Group

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 13.—(P)—Governor Green today told a committee of downstate mayors he would "cooperate" in trying to find a solution to the financial troubles of Illinois municipalities.

Green conferred an hour with Illinois Municipal league officials and mayors of Peoria, Bloomington, DeKalb, Freeport, Evanston and Taylorville.

After the meeting, A. L. Sargent, league executive secretary, said the governor "recognizes a need either for state financial aid to cities or for increasing their money raising powers."

A spokesman for Green said the governor expressed the belief that a solution could be found. Green told the mayors he "was glad of the chance to talk things over" with them.

The conference reviewed the league's program calling for cities to collect a public utility tax, which the state now levies and broadening the cities' licensing and taxing powers. In the event this program is not granted, the cities favor salestax diversion.

Sargent said Green promised to "continue to work with city officials toward a definite legislative program."

Slavs Accuse U. S. And Britain Of Violating Treaty

Lake Success, Aug. 13.—(P)—Yugoslav leaders today asked the security council to find the United States and Britain guilty of violating the Italian peace treaty in the administration of Trieste.

Dr. Josefa Vulfan, Yugoslav representative, offered a resolution condemning the American-British policy.

Council observers saw no chance for the Yugoslav resolution to pass. Both the United States and Britain have denied the charges and in turn accused Yugoslavia of attempting to cover up moves to annex Trieste.

The gist of the Yugoslav charge is that the two western powers are plotting to turn over to Italy the British-American zone in the free territory.

National Guard To Begin Training At Camp Ellis

Camp Ellis, Ill., Aug. 13.—(P)—More than 800 trucks carrying 9,000 downstate national guardsmen will pour into Camp Ellis tomorrow in one of the largest military movements in Illinois history.

The troops, commanded by Maj. Gen. Joseph A. Teece of Vaukegan, will spend the next 15 days in intensive field maneuvers. Range firing will begin Monday morning.

Units participating are General Teece's 44th Infantry Division and the 106th Cavalry squadron commanded by Lt. Col. John Homefield of Springfield.

Thousands of newly recruited citizen-soldiers will be instructed by combat tested officers and non-coms. They will be taught essentials of wartime basic training including close order drill, firing of small arms, unit tactical problems, and fundamentals of soldiering.

Dewey's Manager To Start Fan Clubs

Albany, N.Y., Aug. 13.—(P)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey sat in at a conference today on plans to organize "many thousands" of Dewey-Warren clubs throughout the nation.

The plans were outlined to the Republican presidential nominee by Victor Johnston, newly appointed director of the volunteer committee of the National GOP committee.

Johnston had lunch with Dewey and later told a news conference "we will have many thousands of Dewey-Warren clubs." Gov. Earl Warren of California is Dewey's running mate.

Johnston was campaign manager for Harold E. Stassen in the Wisconsin primary last spring in which the former Minnesota governor soundly defeated Dewey in a bid for convention delegates' support.

WEATHER

The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the U. S. Weather Bureau, yesterday reported the following temperatures for Friday as follows: high, 88, low, 64, and at 7 p.m., 71. Rainfall, 1.26 in.

Forecast for Illinois—Generally fair in north and partly cloudy in south portion Saturday. No decided change in temperature.

CLAIMS IKE WOULD HAVE RUN
Walter Trohan, in the Chicago Tribune, says General Dwight Eisenhower would have accepted the Democratic nomination for president at Philadelphia if President Truman had withdrawn. Mr. Truman, he says, insisted on running.

The mind readers will be saying things like that for some time to come, but we will wait for Eisenhower's word on it before believing it.

We are prepared to believe, however, that he would have preferred to run on the Democratic ticket, because he felt some allegiance to Mr. Truman as his commander-in-chief during the windup of the war, and also because, for all the enthusiasm stirred up for Eisenhower before the Republican convention, there was very little of it among the men who controlled large blocs of delegates. The G.O.P. leaders didn't want him. The Democrats, bosses as well as rank and file, would have embraced him had he wished to run.

But the general had just begun his job as president of Columbia university. A public man can't be constantly jumping from one venture to another like a Jack-in-the-box. His early declarations of a desire not to be a candidate rang with sincerity.

It wasn't patronage that held the delegates in line for Mr. Truman. Few of the delegates had their hands in the federal treasury, contrary to widespread belief. It was just that most of the leading Democrats were connected with the Truman administration in some way—in the cabinet or on commissions and committees—and felt an obligation to Harry.

They didn't, at any rate, feel like challenging him, though most of them probably thought that, for the good of the party, someone should challenge him. So Mr. Truman got the nomination practically by default.

TREES DON'T GROW FAST ENOUGH NOW
Not so long ago representatives of the big lumber companies said that, for the first time in the history of this country, we are growing more timber than we are consuming. Forestry has been reduced to a crop, they said, and every cutting is more than balanced by replanting. This has been going on, they assured us, long enough so that new timber comes into bearing as old timber is harvested.

Now comes a report that lumbermen are slashing away at forests one and a half times as fast as they are being replaced by growth. Some way to fertilize the trees so they will grow faster is being sought.

We have the same conflicting reports on oil, metals, and, to a lesser degree, coal. One day we are told that a crisis is at hand; the next day's report will indicate adequate supply for years to come.

The truth seems to be that there is no modern accurate data on our natural resources. A congressional committee found in investigating the oil situation that most of the data we have on some resources was compiled as a guess by a single man many years ago. We have been tossing those figures around ever since.

It would seem that the first step in insuring a continuing supply of these resources would be to make a complete and accurate compilation of what we now have, how fast we can replace it, and how fast we are using it. We have been treating these resources as though they are inexhaustible, like the air we breathe.

50 Scott County Boys Make Trip; Tour St. Louis

Some fifty boy members of the Scott County 4-H Club and their leaders were guests of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, August 12, on their annual tour, consisting of a general view of business and residential St. Louis arranged especially for the group by the Agricultural Bureau of the Chamber. The Scott County delegation was escorted around the city by William J. Yager, guide furnished by the Chamber of Commerce.

The boys were under the supervision of Robert S. Slayton, Scott County Farm Adviser, who had made the preliminary arrangements. Included in the large group were youths from Winchester, Glasgow, Alsey and other points in the county. The youngsters first visited the broadcasting studios of radio station KMOX. The boys also saw St. Louis' police headquarters, the City Hall, Kiel Auditorium and Memorial Plaza which adjoins the civic buildings.

Following lunch the Scott County delegation was taken to the St. Louis Chevrolet plant in the northwest corner of the city. The plant has 1,575,000 square feet of floor space, extending over 102 acres.

On the return trip from the Chevrolet plant, the youngsters were given an interesting tour of Old St. Louis along the banks of the Mississippi river, seeing the Steamer Admiral, the site of the proposed Jefferson National Expansion Memorial, the Old Cathedral, Old Court-house and other historic points.

How To Smoke A Cigar And Not Burn Up Your Wife

By Hal Boyle

New York—(AP)—The cigar is sending up smoke signals of prosperity amid some feminine cries of complaint.

Last year 15,500,000 smokers in the United States did away with about 6,500,000 cigars. This June almost 430,000,000 cigars were released to the trade, 11 per cent more than a year ago.

But these figures bring small cheer to many women who persist in the strange delusion that a man who smokes cigars probably also takes opium and eats small children on the half shell.

Why? The cigar is as American as the vanishing Redskin. Since Christopher Columbus in 1492 saw his first Indian contentedly puffing away on a stogie, the cigar has enabled the poor man to feel like a king—and the king to feel as much at ease as the commoner.

Yet the cigar smoker today is the victim of a widespread female conspiracy against him. If he lights up his Colorado Claro in an airplane, the stewardess flutters up like an angry butterfly.

"Cigarette smoking only!" she says, ferrying away the offending hunk of weed as if it were the birthplace of world contagion.

I know. Lots of times in this way I've lost a ten-cent cigar that still had nine cents to go. And the airline never refunded either the cigar or the price of a new one.

You stoke up in a friend's house and what often happens? His wife throws open the windows, ties back the curtains, turns the fan on you—and sits glaring with a baleful eye until you rub out the poor old cigar.

Gable Smokes Cigars
My own wife for some years now has been trying to get me to join the C.A.A.—cigar addicts anonymous. It does no good for me to remind her that she thinks Clark Gable packs terrific he-man glamor, and Gable smokes cigars.

"If you are going to try to compare yourself with Clark Gable," says Frances, "let's start from scratch."

Remembering what happened to the fine old lost art of tobacco chewing, the worried Cigar Institute of America has undertaken a campaign to placate the ladies.

It said a survey disclosed that many women basically object to the way a cigar is usually smoked, rather than to the cigar itself. The institute patriotically denies that a cigar stinks up clothing or a living room—smoke ring for smoke ring—any more than cigarettes. But it gives these etiquette tips to cigar smokers who want to keep the little woman happy:

Look Before You Flick
"(1) Look before you flick—for an ash on the tray is worth two on the vest.
"(2) Puff a good cigar gently. Laying a smoke screen may easily turn the puff that pleases into the cloud that chokes.
"(3) Please—no butts. A collection of unsightly butts parked promiscuously around the house will antagonize the most angelic wife.
"(4) Don't chew the cigar or talk with a perfect clamped in the mouth. Cut the cigar with a sharp blade; don't bite off and spit out the end. And light it with a match that has burned off the sulphur. It helps to keep the aroma."
There you are, men. Okay? Now light up a big two-for-fifteen Corona Deluxe Extra Hemp Special—and watch your wife's face beam in tender pride and understanding. To keep her happy there is one more thing you can do. Swallow the smoke.

Cicero Ousts Police Official

Chicago, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The police superintendent in suburban Cicero, where Capone gangsters made their headquarters in the 1920's, has been ousted by the village board despite protests from ministerial and teacher groups and the Chicago Crime commission.

The board voted unanimously late yesterday to remove Supt. Joseph Horjess, so-called "clean-up" appointee of the village President John C. Stoffel last April. Horjess was accused of inefficiency.

The action was on motion to amend the police section of the Cicero charter to abolish the post of superintendent of police and make the senior civil service captain police head.

Relief Packages Requested From Local Red Cross

The Morgan county Red Cross chapter has announced that CARE has requested packages from the local unit. CARE was established after the war by 26 welfare agencies, with the support of the U. S. government to provide non-profit gift package service to individuals and groups in war-devastated countries.

The United States sends close to 70,000 of these packages a week. Miss Alma Mackness, chapter secretary, reports that persons in the Jacksonville area have contributed their quota of these packages in the past, but that the contributions have tapered off recently.

More details on sending these packages can be secured through the Red Cross. Information on what is in the packages and where they are sent is available to interested persons.

The phone at the Red Cross is 1844, and it is located in the Gibson building on East Morgan street.

Prospects For Met Season Brighter

New York, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Prospects for a metropolitan opera season this year appeared brighter today.

Following a meeting last night, union and management representatives said in a joint statement they were hopeful of "a basis for agreement" on plans for a 1948-49 season.

The Metropolitan Opera Association last week announced cancellation of the forthcoming season, blaming the decision on financial difficulties and its inability to meet union demands.

Neither side would reveal what was discussed at last night's session.

GUESTS AT CHAPIN

Week end guests of Rev. and Mrs. Fred Wilson were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Palm of Urbana; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Palm, parents of Gordon Palm, of San Diego, Calif., and Miss Dorothy Wilson of Springfield.

FINAL OPPORTUNITY TO SPRAY CROPS FOR GRASSHOPPERS

The Master Sprayers will leave this area in the next three or four days to return to Iowa where they have been called to work on the second stage of the corn borer. If you want your crops protected at now and call Jim Bunting, Morgan County Farm Bureau, or contact the Master Sprayers at the Jacksonville Airport. Final requests will be accepted up to Monday evening, August 16.

Illinois Veterans May Renew Term Life Insurance

Illinois veterans of World War II may now renew their national service life insurance on a "term" basis for another five years, the Illinois Veterans commission announced Friday.

The first of the policies, issued to men in service in October, 1940, will expire next October unless renewed or converted. Congress recently passed a law allowing renewal of the term policies for another five-year period at the premium rate applicable at the time of renewal.

Meanwhile veterans who have allowed their insurance to lapse may have it reinstated if they can pass a physical examination.

Service Officer Dallas Whitehurst of Morgan county whose office is located at 6-7 Morrison Block, Jacksonville, Illinois, will assist any veteran in solving his GI insurance problems or any other veteran benefit.

RETURN FROM WEST

Mr. and Mrs. George Spires, 610 South Kosciusko street, have returned from a six-weeks visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Spires, and daughter, Carol Elaine, in Mira Loma, Calif. They also visited in Denver, Colo., with their daughter, Miss Genevieve Spires; in Crowley, Colo., with Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilson; and at Rye, Colo., with Mrs. Singer of Pueblo, Colo. Mr. and Mrs. Van and Mrs. Singer, the former Bessie Wilson Arsdale, previously resided in this city. It had been 46 years since the Spires had visited with Mrs. Singer.

Blood Donation Campaign Begins In Jerseyville

Jerseyville—The blood donor project which was carried out in Jersey county during World War II will be resumed here in conjunction with the state wide program.

The local Medical Association has given its approval to the program in Jersey county, and the president of the Jersey County organization, Dr. H. R. Bohannon will appoint a general chairman for the work in this locality.

Central points for processing the donated blood have been created, and Jersey county and thirty seven other counties in Illinois adjacent to St. Louis will be serviced by one of the St. Louis plants.

Mobile units from the St. Louis center will be sent to each of the counties for periodic collection of blood. A yearly quota has been assigned to each county and Jersey county's allotment is three hundred and eighty-eight pints.

The local Red Cross Chapter is assuming the responsibility for the recruitment of volunteers for blood donations.

DEATH TERMED ACCIDENTAL

Freeport, Ill., Aug. 13.—(AP)—The death of Frank Ortiz, 60, whose body was found yesterday under a freight car in the railroad yard here, was held accidental by a coroner's jury. He was a track worker for the Illinois Central railroad. There were no known witnesses to his death.

J. H. Vortman Of Bluffs Honored On 85th Birthday

A fish fry was held on the lawn of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pahlman near Bluffs, honoring her father, J. H. (Dick) Vortman on his eighty-fifth birthday anniversary.

The dinner was prepared on the outdoor furnace. A birthday cake with 85 candles was presented to Mr. Vortman by his daughter, Mrs. Pahlman.

The afternoon was spent taking photographs and playing cards.

Birthday anniversaries of Mardell McAllister and Everett Nece also were observed at the gathering.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ray McAllister and son Byron, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vortman and daughter Joyce of Chapin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen of White Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Nece of Naples, Miss Mardell McAllister of Jacksonville, Mr. and Mrs. James Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mueller and son Gene, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pahlman and daughter Louise, and the honored guest, J. H. Vortman of Bluffs.

Can Now Work Without Pain
For First Time In 5 YearsMr. Phillip Held, Peoria, gets quick relief from acid indigestion and heart burn.

"I have suffered from acid indigestion and heart burn for five years," writes Mr. Held. "It has been impossible for me to eat as I wanted to as the food would sour and form gas on my stomach. I have tried many well known medicines but none of them helped me at all but after taking the first bottle of Rentox I was greatly improved. I am now able to work without distress. As soon as I saw the list of ingredients in Rentox I knew that it was what I have been looking for. I would recommend Rentox to anyone."

Let Rentox bring you quick relief as it has Mr. Held. If you suffer with gas, acid indigestion, poor appetite, this splendid medicine containing 26 ingredients may be just what you need. By eliminating toxic poisons from the system, lack of vitality and energy are quickly helped. Helps kidneys and bladder too, thus making it unnecessary to get up nights with the attendant loss of sleep. Why not go to your drugist today and get a bottle of Rentox. Be sure you get what you ask for, don't be sold a substitute.

Frustrated Teacher Can Be Blamed For Child Frustration

London, Aug. 13. (P)—What makes a frustrated school child frustrated? Psychiatrists think it's a frustrated teacher.
That's what the international conference on child psychiatry was told here today. The news was in a paper written by Dr. Gordon Stephens, chief psychiatric consultant at the Winnipeg child guidance clinic. It was read for him by John R. Seeley, executive officer of the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene.
A frustrated teacher, Stephens wrote, is like a bad apple in a barrel. The teacher's personality is taken up by pupils. A drab teacher increases the drabness of an old schoolhouse and many such teachers are incapable of paying even lip service to the modern concepts of human behavior, Stephens said.
Such teachers, he declared, regard spontaneity, humor or emotional disturbances—except their own—as highly immoral. The great concern of psychiatrists today, Stephens continued, is the teacher who thwarts her pupils, their initiative and other evidences of growth "to the extent that pathological submission is the only acceptable behavior reaction."

Fire Hits Mine Near Carlinville

Carlinville, Ill., Aug. 13.—(P)—A fire destroyed the boiler and engine rooms and the main house at the south coal mine near here early today. It happened about 2 a. m., when no miners were at work. The mine employs 60 men.
The hoisting machinery was damaged, and two cages dropped to the bottom of the 250-foot shaft. Ten mules were in the mine, but they escaped injury.
Paul Cera, manager, estimated it would cost $30,000 to put the mine in order again. Two weeks ago the management offered to sell it to the employees for $62,000. The workers, members of the P.M.A.W., had the matter under consideration.
State and county inspectors said they couldn't determine how the fire started.

Prowlers Enter Jerseyville Homes In Day Time

Jerseyville—Daylight prowlers have been entering homes in the western part of the city the past few days. Entrance is effected by cutting the wire of screen doors and unhooking the device locking the door.
Raymond Vanaudoll, local painter, reported Thursday morning that his house was broken into Wednesday afternoon while he was at work on a paint job. Vanaudoll is a widower and lives alone. The screen wire of the door had been cut, and the house had been ransacked. Vanaudoll stated that he believed the entrance was the work of a boy or boys, for the party entering had removed Vanaudoll's rifle from its place and had left it lying on the floor of one of the rooms. Vanaudoll stated that he had found nothing missing from the dwelling in his first checkup.
Neighbors of Vanaudoll report observing a small boy in the locality during the afternoon, but had not paid much attention to the child. Recently the residence of Edward Baltimore in the same neighborhood was entered when the family was away and a jar containing a number of small coins was taken.

Square Fountain Is Removed For Necessary Repair

Workmen of the city park board have removed the fountain on the northeast corner of the public square to repair it. An excavation of six feet has been made to repair the water supply pipe. The fountain will be replaced when it is fixed.
Fresh parking and driving markings were completed in the downtown area Thursday morning. Paint crews worked swiftly to beat the mid-morning traffic. City officials say that clear parking designation lines facilitate parking and traffic problems.

Hubert Littler Describes Plant To Rotary Club

Hubert Littler, district manager of the Illinois Power company, spoke Friday noon to the Rotary club at the Dunlap hotel. His topic was the new power station at Havana, Ill.
Among other aspects of the plant, Littler described the process of preparing the coal and steam turbines for operation. He said that the plant was located by the river, not because of power derived from the river, but because of the vast quantities of water necessary to condense steam after it has gone through the turbines.
During the meeting communications were read by Robert Hitch, secretary of the club, resigning his position effective August 15. He is going to Laramie, Wyoming to become instructor at the University of Wyoming.
President H. L. Caldwell presided.

Farmer Tells How He Sheltered Red School Teacher

Freehold, N. J., Aug. 13.—(P)—An elderly chicken farmer who admits he once was a Russian revolutionary told today how he hid a Soviet school teacher and his family for nine days.
Harry Schibanoff, a giant of a man in his middle 60's, told a Philadelphia Evening Bulletin reporter that he knew of efforts to save two Russian teachers—Michael I. Samarine and Mrs. Oksana Stepanovna Kosenkina—from being returned to the Soviet Union.
The information, Schibanoff said, came from Countess Alexandra Tolstoy who operates a White Communist refuge in New York State.
The burly, big-handed farmer who has lived in the U. S. since 1910 said the Countess feared one of the two teachers might not be sincere in fighting Soviet authority.
"I proposed I would do anything I could to help her in New York," the story continued.
"On July 29, I had a call from her. She said she would like to see me on one case and could I come to New York. I went to the Tolstoy Foundation Headquarters in New York the next day.
"The Countess explained the whole story about Samarine and his family. She told me at that time that Mrs. Kosenkina was in her office and that Samarine had come to her office, too.
"Samarine had told the Countess that he was afraid to go back to Russia because of the death or severe punishment which would await him. He wanted to stay in America."
Schibanoff said he arranged to meet Samarine in a New York City cafeteria. Here, he said, the two discussed the teacher's future.
"He looked at me with tears in his eyes and said: 'Mr. Schibanoff, if I can't stay here I won't go to Russia. I will kill myself and my family.'"

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Aug. 13—(P)—Hogs were steady to 50 cents a hundred pounds lower today, with most of the knock-down on heavier weights and sows. Cattle were steady to 50 cents less and sheep mostly steady.
Butchers grading good and choice ranged from $22.50 to $30.00 and a top mark of $30.25. Sows fetched $22.00 to $28.00.
With little available grading above good, most of the cattle trade concentrated on medium and good light steers and heifers at $26.00 to $35.00. Common and medium grassers were $21.00 to $25.50 in the cleanup trade.
The practical top on good sausage bulls was $24.50 with vealers holding firm at $32.00 and below.
Good and choice native spring lambs brought the top and popular money of $27.50 while mature slaughter ewes ranged downward from $12.00.
Total receipts included 6,500 hogs, 1,700 cattle, 200 calves, and 2,500 sheep.

New York Stock Market

New York, Aug. 13—(P)—The stock market leaned ahead today in one of the sleepiest sessions of the past four years.
Volume for the day ran at the rate of around 500,000 shares. This would be well below yesterday's slim 630,000 shares.
Price increases ranged to more than a point while losses for the most part were fractional.
Wall Street offered a variety of reasons for the market's coma, including Berlin negotiations, recently imposed credit controls, and the political outlook.
Many traders professed to see in the small volume an indication of better things to come. Large-scale selling, they reasoned, has just about run its course and the market is maneuvering into a position for a resumption of the spring advance.
Critics of this theory labelled it "wistful thinking."
Higher prices were paid most of the time for U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Woolworth, Deere and American Telephone.
Balky spots included Chrysler, Schenley, John-Manville, Illinois Central, and Standard Oil (NJ).
In the over-the-counter market some U. S. government issues, chiefly in the short-term bracket, tended lower.

PRICES SLUMP AS SELLING IN NEW CROP CORN INCREASES

Chicago, Aug. 13—(P)—Selling in new crop corn deliveries increased in the last half of the session on the board of trade today, knocking prices down for losses of nearly 2 cents at times. Earlier, the new crop contracts had been higher in sympathy with strength of September corn.
Some switching was going on between the various corn contracts.
Some sales of new crop deliveries were made against purchases of September. However, an early gain of around 2 cents in the September month was reduced when weaker early strength in September was based on a firm tone for cash grain and limited country offerings on a to-arrive basis. A growing belief that the country will not have room to store the prospective bumper corn harvest caused the selling in new crop contracts.
Wheat had a steady undertone most of the session without doing much. Trading was less active than in corn. The market got support on reports of export flour sales to India and Italy. Oats were down with corn and soybeans lost early gains.
Receipts were: wheat 73 cars, corn 99, oats 70, and soybeans 7.
Wheat closed 1/2 lower to 1 1/2 higher. September 22-24; corn was 1 1/2 lower to 1 1/2 higher. September 11-13; oats were 1-1 lower. September 12-14; soybeans were 1 cent lower, November $2.61.

U.S. Wins In Basketball; Boosts Haul To 37 Titles

London, Aug. 13—(P)—Old Glory flapped above two more American Olympic champions today as the basketball and army equestrian teams boosted Uncle Sam's haul to 37 titles.
With only one event still to be contested on tomorrow's closing program, the American sweep continues. Coach Bud Browning's cagers toyed with France in coasting to a resounding 65-21 final victory. The result was not unexpected for the Americans outlasted the opposition in a sport that originated at Springfield, Mass., some 57 years ago.
France was in the ball game for the first two minutes but that was all. They simply couldn't solve the tight American defense and were unable to cope with their scoring power.
Alex Groza of Kentucky was the high man with 11 points to 10 for Ray Lumm of New York University as 13 of the 14 squad members broke into the point column. Bob Kurland, 7-foot center, scored twice from the field before he was replaced after 12 minutes of play.
The final going no sooner sounded than the huge American flag unfurled from the ceiling in the blue blaze of the spotlight. As it turned out, the officials were so sure America would win they hadn't bothered to bring along any other flag.
In their enthusiasm the American team hoisted bawling Jesse "Cab" Renick to their shoulders and carried him off the floor.
The U. S. army's hard-riding equestrian team, disbanded in 1940 and reactivated in 1946, carried off the honors in the rugged three-day test by amassing 1613 minus points to lead Sweden in a close finish.
American boxers, who dominate the world in the pro ranks, failed to cop a single Olympic title. Argentina, South Africa and Czechoslovakia each took home two and Czechoslovakia and Italy one apiece. The team went to South Africa with 29 points.
Horace Herring of St. Petersburg, Fla., the lone U. S. hope in the finals, was beaten by Julius Torma of Czechoslovakia for the welter crown on a split decision.
South Africa's lightweight champion, George Hunter, was judged the cleanest and most proficient boxer in the tournament. He was awarded the Val Barker cup.

Invitational Meet Playoff Postponed; Resumes Sunday

Play in the Jacksonville Recreation club West Central Illinois Invitational Softball tournament will be resumed at Nichols Park diamond with three games on Sunday night. Although the final game of the A.S.A. sectional playoff was postponed Friday night, the invitational will be resumed Sunday as was originally planned.
Jacksonville Recreation club officials were unable to say what schedule will be followed this week when they were interviewed following postponement of the sectional final. The Macomb Dodgers will be contacted Saturday and a night will be set for the final combat.
Sunday's schedule in the tourney is: 6:30 p.m. (DST)—Jacksonville Knights of Columbus vs. House of Clay (Jacksonville); 8:00—Carrollton Lions vs. Roodhouse Phillips 66 Players; 9:30—Myers Bros. vs. Beardstown Glovers.
The invitational tourney was postponed in June after a week of washouts. Only five games have been played and a total of five nights of action remains.
The sectional playoff, which will name this area's representative in the state tournament at Decatur later this month, was tied at one game each. Myers Bros. of Jacksonville and the Macomb Dodgers will tangle sometime this week in the deciding contest.

Children's Eyes Need Attention Before School

Urbana, Ill.—An important before-school job is to have your child's eyes examined, because a defect in vision can make school hard for him.
That's the advice of Miss Fannie Brooks, health specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Of course all children should have their eyes checked early in life, she stresses.
You can get some idea of how well your child sees by watching him in everyday activity. Miss Brooks suggests some points to check. They are part of a list by Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association.
Do you find your child doing any one or more of the following: "Attempting to brush away a blur. Blinking continuously when at a task calling for close eye work. Crying frequently. Having frequent fits of temper. Holding a book close to his eyes when reading. Holding his body tense when looking at distant objects. Selecting small playthings and keeping his face close to them. Rubbing his eyes frequently. Shutting one eye or covering it when looking at nearby objects. Thrusting his head forward in an effort to see distant objects. Failing to catch a ball thrown to him. Tending to look cross-eyed at nearby objects."
If your child shows some of these signs, have his eyes examined at once by a competent oculist; follow up his suggestions immediately, says Miss Brooks.

Stevenson Accuses Green Of Passing Out Favors

Macomb, Ill., Aug. 13—(P)—Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic nominee for governor, today accused Republican Gov. Dwight H. Green of "using road construction for passing out patronage and favors to the faithful."
In a campaign speech at a farmers' picnic, Stevenson quoted President Charles B. Shuman of the Illinois Agricultural Association as saying: "The condition of rural roads cannot be tolerated much longer."
Stevenson said he knew who his assailants were and showed police away when they wanted to talk to him. He said he would "even the score" himself.
Yesterday, his wallet was found buried in a weed-covered lot by workmen digging a trench on the southwest side. In a search of the area, police found other papers belonging to him and surmised that "Blackie" might have gone the way of many another underworld victim.
He had no home address so far as police knew. He does have a mail address but has not been seen there for about three weeks, said Police Capt. Walter Healy.
"Blackie" first was shot down in January 1947. Last May, he was shot again. Taken to St. George hospital frequent telephone threats followed.

Tobin Takes Oath As Sec. Of Labor

Washington, Aug. 13—(P)—Maurice J. Tobin took the oath of Secretary of Labor today and dedicated himself to repairing the "damage" he said the 80th Congress had done to the Labor Department.
How long he will remain secretary depends on who is elected president in November. If the Republicans win, Tobin's cabinet career will be short.
Tobin, 47, who has served both as mayor of Boston and governor of Massachusetts, accepted President Truman's appointment after several days consideration. His acceptance meant withdrawing from the race against Paul A. Dever for the Democratic nomination for governor of Massachusetts.
Dever was on hand today to introduce Tobin to a large audience at the Labor Department.
Accepting the cabinet post, Tobin said in a prepared speech that Labor Department employees had remained steadfast to their ideals of serving the wage-earners "despite the efforts of the 80th Congress to obstruct their work."
"BLUE BABY" RECOVERS
Chicago, Aug. 13—(P)—Mary Lou Nicholson, two, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus O. Nicholson of 574 Longview place, Decatur, Ill., is recovering after a "Blue baby" operation in Children's Memorial hospital.
The little girl's condition gets its name from the bluish tinged lips and fingernails caused by lack of oxygen.

Body Of Chicago Tailor Found In Mississippi River

St. Louis, Aug. 13—(P)—The body of a man described by police in underworld jargon as "wired for the angels" was taken from the Mississippi river yesterday and identified by a nephew as Chaim Feinstein, a Russian tailor from Chicago.
Police said the man had been slugged, strangled, and bound with several lengths of baling wire tied through a metal ring weighing about 10 pounds.
Morton Feinstein, a 15-year-old nephew, told police his uncle left the Feinstein home here Monday night and had not been seen since. He said his uncle lived in Havana, Cuba, for 10 or 15 years, New York for a year, and Chicago for the last three months.
A key found in the dead man's pocket fitted the front door of the Feinstein home here. The boy said Chaim was a brother of his father, Meyer, who died last March.
Morton said neither he nor his two sisters were alarmed over his uncle's sudden disappearance because he was "a wanderer" and came and went without explanation.
Police said the man may have anticipated death. Among his belongings at the residence here with $2,000 in traveler's checks and $760 in cash was a note on ruled paper which carried his signature and the residence address:
"All the money I have in post office and traveler's checks should belong to the children of my brother."
Dr. John J. Connor, coroner's physician, said the man was murdered but Police Capt. Martin Cliffe said he believed the death was suicide. He said Feinstein had been worried about his health and that when he left his relatives here he did not take his wrist watch, ring, or cuff links.
Chicago, Aug. 13—(P)—Police wondered today whether vengeful trigger fingers have drawn another—this time fatal—bead on John M. "Blackie" Sullivan.
The 47-year-old convict, believed by police to have slot machine and gambling racket connections, has been shot and threatened before. He always said he knew who his assailants were and showed police away when they wanted to talk to him. He said he would "even the score" himself.
Yesterday, his wallet was found buried in a weed-covered lot by workmen digging a trench on the southwest side. In a search of the area, police found other papers belonging to him and surmised that "Blackie" might have gone the way of many another underworld victim.
He had no home address so far as police knew. He does have a mail address but has not been seen there for about three weeks, said Police Capt. Walter Healy.
"Blackie" first was shot down in January 1947. Last May, he was shot again. Taken to St. George hospital frequent telephone threats followed.

GASOLINE CALLED OBSOLETE

J. P. McKee, VISITING TYCOON, DEMONSTRATES AMAZING NEW MOTOR FUEL MADE FROM WATER

In a series of spectacular tests yesterday, McKee proved that cars may soon cross the nation on a thimble full of Blendidine and plenty of water! He also predicted that planes of the future may pick up the bulk of their fuel in flight from moisture laden clouds.

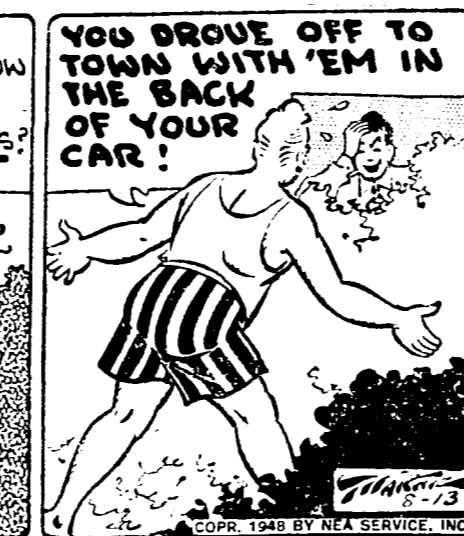

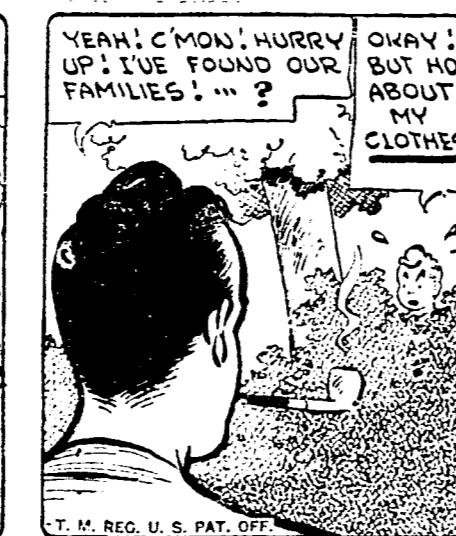

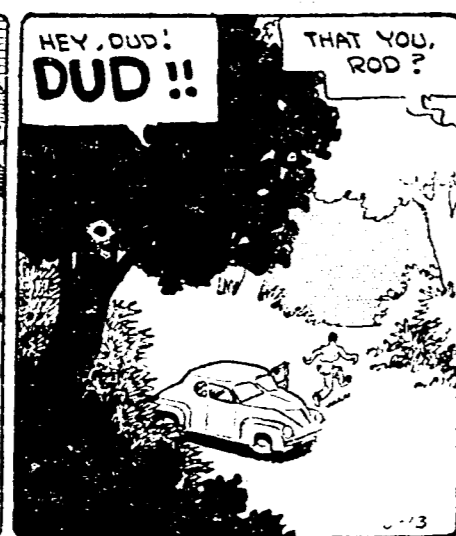

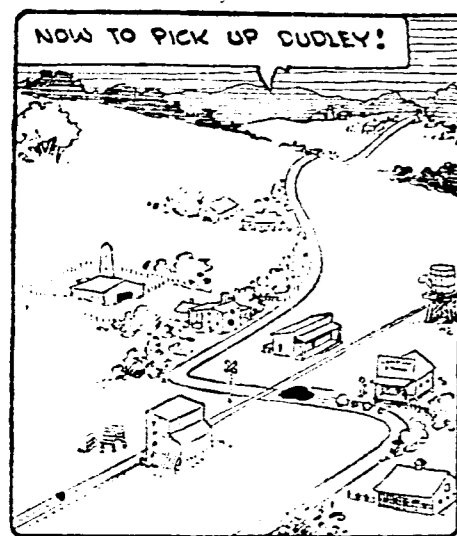

Mr. McKee pointed out that with our oil fields scarcely able to supply present day needs, and rapidly becoming exhausted, Blendidine will soon supply the world's fuel needs. Blendidine is a new motor fuel made from water.

XLII
FROM the meager information provided by Lily Francie, a search for the whereabouts of Harry Bindle could have been more arduous. But, aided by a knowledge of the nature of Joe Steppo's final employment, Lieutenant Talent's men, although they had only Bindle's surname to guide them, made rapid progress. One of them phoned in an address to Talent a little after 3 o'clock, with the added information that Bindle was in his office. Fifteen minutes later, Talent, accompanied by Detective Gus Ripley, joined two Headquarters men in the entrance way of a vacant store in the upper Forties, just off Eighth Avenue. Across the street, occupying half of the ground floor of a squalid three-story building, was the office of a clothes cleaning establishment.

"That shop is just a front," one of the Headquarters men said to Talent. "Bindle's layout is behind it. The shop does a little business, of course, through the front door, but Bindle's customers use the gangway from this street, or come in from the back from the next street."

Talent placed his men. He gave Ripley orders to follow him in 10 minutes if he didn't return. Then he went into the office of the drab clothes cleaning shop. A girl sat behind a counter. She looked up when Talent sketched the door behind him. He walked toward the passage between the counter and the side wall.

"Where you going?" the girl asked. "Back to see Mr. Bindle," Talent said, without interrupting his nonchalant progress.

HE was past her before she could frame a protest. Far back, there were three short buzzing sounds. So the girl in the shop was a lookout, Talent reflected. The hallway widened into a room that seemed to be little more than storage space for clothes racks and packing cases. It had one dim light, just enough to define a heavy-paneled door at a rear corner. Before Talent reached the door, it opened, and a thick, coarse-featured man stepped through it. He scowled at Talent. "Who you looking for back here?" he demanded.

"Harry," Talent said mildly. "I need his help on something." Talent flipped back a lapel of his coat. The brief flash of authority caused the man to alter his obvious intention of closing the heavy door behind him. "Okay. Come along, but we don't generally use this door."

Inside the room beyond the door, the man stepped aside as Talent followed and said, "A cop to see you boss."

Harry Bindle looked up from a massive walnut desk. Before he could make up his mind what to say, Talent said, "Just a word or two in private. Harry. I'm Lieutenant Talent from Headquarters. I think you can help me."

"Sure, any time, sit down," Bindle said grudgingly. He made no move to get out of the chair behind his desk. His orders to the other man were unspoken. "The man closed the door, then disappeared through a side door."

Bindle forced a smile. "What can I do for you, Lieutenant?" "Trying to find out something about a girl named Lily Francie," Talent said.

Bindle relaxed. He jerked open a drawer of his desk and took out a box of cigars, offered them to Talent, selected one himself. "The name don't hit. Am I supposed to know her?" While saying that Bindle's stubby thumb and forefinger were rolling the cigar band into a tight wad. He dropped it into his desk ashtray and, his fat chin resting on his chest, he peered blankly across at Talent from beneath the drooping brim of a soft hat tilted to meet his right eyebrow and rest on his right ear.

Talent tossed the $100 bill he had bought from Lily Francie on the desk. "We found that on her. She said she got it from you." There was complete absence of implied accusation in Talent's statement. Bindle looked at the bill without reaching for it.

"Why would I give a tart I never saw a $100 bill I never had?" Bindle propounded. Talent retrieved the bill. "Well, that's that. She could be lying, of course."

"She's lying, and it's no maybe." Talent was satisfied. There hadn't been a ripple in Bindle's cement features but, for Talent's purposes, Bindle might as well have been a mastiff whose tail suddenly ceased wagging.

Talent made as if to get up. "Well, I'll be on my way. Sorry I bothered you, Bindle. I'll go out the way I came."

Bindle rose agilely, walked quickly around the desk and strode toward the door. Talent stood up and his hat fell to the floor. He bent to retrieve it and as he straightened unobtrusively transferred a sheet of paper from Bindle's desk to his side pocket. Bindle had been fingering it when Talent entered.

"No bother, Lieutenant," Bindle said, holding the door open. "Any time."

Outside the little shop, Talent saw Gus Ripley across the street, consulting his watch. When Ripley looked across, Talent walked on toward Eighth Avenue. Around the corner, he waited. Ripley joined him after a minute.

"Hit pay dirt?" Ripley wanted to know.

"It took a long time to find the man Joe Steppo was working for, Gus," Talent said. "Why don't we go in and take him?"

"I think I left Bindle with some ideas to work over in his mind, Gus. He'll be easier to cook, I think, if we get him coming out."

Judges To Choose Top Steers In Junior Show At State Fair Today

By CECIL TENDICK
Journal Courier Farm Editor

The farm youth of Illinois took over the stage Friday on the opening day of the 92nd annual state fair.

They carefully tended their already pampered livestock, showed demonstrations on the proper way to make cookies and displayed their home-made dresses before the discerning eyes of the judges.

In other areas of the fairgrounds it was setting-up day for many exhibitors, although the majority were ready to greet the more than 1,000,000 visitors expected this year.

Governor Dwight Green put in a busy morning, formally opening the big show by touching off an aerial bomb before making his official tour of inspection. He posed for a picture with the Morgan county home economics girls, looked over the hogs and cattle and pitched a few horseshoes with Earl Bomke of New Berlin, the state champion.

First Since A Kid
"That's the first time I've pitched horseshoes since I was a kid," the governor remarked. He didn't make any ringers, but got considerable applause when he hit the peg on his fourth try.

A few minutes later the horseshoe enthusiasts gave him a list of their complaints: the courts, in one corner of the race track infield, were poorly located, there wasn't any shade and the spectators had to stand to see their favorites in action. The governor promised things would be different, come next year.

Farmers and stockmen from the Journal Courier area have contributed heavily to the roster of excellent livestock on display. Conrad P. Becker, business administrator, announced Friday that total entries were 7,455. This is an increase of 1975 over entries of 1947.

Swine and sheep show the major increases. Altogether 3,337 head of hogs are at the fair. Herdsmen are hoping the weather will stay the same. A few degrees higher temperatures will bring suffering to their charges.

Girls Make Cookies
Morgan and Scott county 4-H girls illustrated cookie taking techniques in demonstrations held Friday afternoon. Miss Donna Ommen, Morgan's representative, showed "Getting Ready to Make Cookies." She is the daughter of Harry Ommen, 854 W. College avenue.

"Making Ice Box Cookies" was the demonstration given by the two Scott county girls: Grace Smith, daughter of Mrs. Helen Smith, and Frances O'Donnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell O'Donnell. Both girls reside on rural route 3, Winchester.

The home economics dress revue will be shown to the public at 3 p.m. Saturday.

The governor looked over the dresses made by the Morgan county girls. He complimented them for their fine taste as to fabric and pattern and applauded their needlework.

Farm Advisers Busy
Kenneth Stocker, youth assistant of Woodford county, and all the farm advisers of this area are assisting with the junior show. Stocker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Stocker, Murrayville.

Farm Adviser E. H. Garlich is an assistant dormitory supervisor. He'll be busy there until next Saturday. Judging of the thousands of culinary entries got underway Friday. It brought the big news of the day, when a Decatur man named Edwin E. Bryan won the blue ribbon with his devil's food cake. The judges said it tasted just as good as it looked.

Taylor To Speak
The Progressive party will hold a rally Saturday. Their candidate for vice-president, Senator Glen Taylor of Idaho, is scheduled to speak at the grandstand at 12:45 p.m., daylight time.

Junior steers will be judged Saturday, but most other classes will not be shown before Monday. The fair as a whole was in the throes of organization pains Friday. Many of the workers spent the day getting rather acquainted with the jobs, but they didn't know just what was going on.

One girl broadly typified the group. A native of Springfield, she had been assigned to her task about 10 a.m. At noon she called her boyfriend. He wanted to know what kind of job she had.

"Oh, it's easy, so far," she told him. "All I do is sit at a desk. It's marked information and there isn't any information."

To Quiz Chauffeur In Murder Of Dice Man At Springfield

St. Louis, Aug. 13.—(P)—James Vincent Moncado, 27-year-old chauffeur, is in custody of police today for questioning in the murder of Leonard Giordano, night club dice game operator at Springfield, Ill. Moncado's half-brother, Angelo Lodato, has a night club near the place where Giordano's body was found last Monday.

State's Attorney John W. Curren was enroute from Springfield to question Moncado, who was picked up at his home early this morning. Police did not disclose how Moncado was brought into the investigation but said the arrest was made at Curren's request.

Lodato and his wife, who operate the 2600 club at Springfield, came to St. Louis Monday night. They were quoted by police as saying they came to visit Lodato's mother who is ill.

Giordano's body, bearing black-jack marks, a bullet hole and a knife slash across the throat, was found sprawled beside U. S. highway 66 northeast of the Illinois state fairgrounds.

He had been employed at the Pad night club for about a year. His wife and two children live in Chicago.

MAN DIES IN FALL
Peoria, Ill., Aug. 13.—(P)—Clarence Botkin, Jr., 22, of Pekin, an electrical worker, fell 22 feet to his death today from a ladder in downtown Peoria. He suffered a skull fracture.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL
Roodhouse—Veterans are requested to report at the American Legion hall at 12:30 p.m. Sunday to attend the military funeral of Sgt. Leo McClenning at the Baptist church in Patterson.

Gov. Green Compliments Skill of Morgan 4-H Girls

In his official tour of the Illinois State Fair on its opening day Friday, Governor Dwight Green paused to inspect the many fine garments made by Illinois 4-H girls. He particularly singled out the four Morgan county representatives, who were pleased to show him the clothes they will model today.

The dress revue will be held at 3 p.m. Saturday.

Mrs. Marvin Tholen, Morgan county assistant home adviser, is serving as one of the clothing judges. Among the blue ribbon selections was a melon-colored two-piece wool dress made by Lois Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stewart, rural route 1, Jacksonville.
